

Logging into your Student email

The University email is provided by Gmail. This offers you email, calendar and collaboration tools.

Your email address will be: `firstname.lastname@study.beds.ac.uk`

Example: `john.jones@study.beds.ac.uk`

Logging into your Student email account:

Student email can be accessed in any of the following ways:

- Load your internet browser and enter mail.study.beds.ac.uk
- Click the University email button located on the Learning Resources desktop

University of Bedfordshire

University Login

The University has implemented single sign-on functionality to reduce the number of times you need to login to different University services. By logging in below you will have access to a number of services that have already been

Username:

Password:

Login

Forgotten password?

1. Go to the Student email login page. The Login dialog box will be displayed.
2. Enter your University registration number into the Username box.
3. Enter your University password into the Password box and click the Login button.